What counts as income?

In order for the childcare fee to be calculated correctly, it is important that the Child and Youth Department always has up-to-date information about your income. Your income details form the basis for determining the fee paid for a pre-school place, educational care (nursery) and after-school club.

Fees apply for twelve months a year. The fee is always calculated on the basis of a 30-day month. Where placement or termination of the arrangement takes place on 15th of the month, 15/30 of the calculated monthly fee will be deducted.

An invoice will be sent between 5th and 15th of each month and relates to the fee for the month in which it is sent.

The period of preparation for school is counted as placement time and is subject to a fee.

Who the fee applies to

The fee is the same, whether you are single, married or co-habiting. For married or co-habiting couples with children together or from previous relationships, the fee will be based on the family's total gross income before tax.

Income used to determine the fee:

- Gross salary and other payments in connection with employment (including unsociable hours pay, on-call pay, overtime, company car benefit, etc.)
- Sick pay
- Sickness benefit/activity compensation
- Parent's allowance
- Taxable training grant
- Unemployment benefit
- Activity support
- Family allowance (financial assistance for military service)
- Pension benefits
- Foster child payment (excluding expenses element) – for own placed children
- Foster child payment (fee element and compensation of expenses) – for placed children
- Care allowance for handicapped children (taxable element)
- Other taxable income (e.g. life annuities – taxable element)

Income not used to determine the fee:

- Child allowance/study grant
- Large family benefit
- Study support in the form of extended child allowance and study assistance
- Housing benefit
- Care allowance from the county council
- Provision support
- Maintenance support
- Other benefits that are not taxable
